

BADICAL INDUSTRIES

Taco bell and Moe's are two of the most regarded gringo Mexican food houses that have withstood the test of time. Taco bell, the #1 export of the Mexican nations, provides a selection of authentic low-quality Mexican meals. Taco bell serves the commoners while Moe's attracts the pencil pushers. These guys know more about number crunching and tie tying than they do about Mexican cuisine (tacos and burritos).

Mexico

Mexico is located in the topward part of the earth (underneath the prime meridian, i think). Renowned for its drinking water, in Mexico everything is spicy, from the refried bean ice cream to the chubby senioritas an average Mexican Joe. It may be difficult to find oversized headwear here in the states, but in mexico, no problemo; large hats line the streets. Young men receive a gift of sombrero at the age of 10 along with the first sign of mustache.

mariachis use big guitars to play their full-bodied love ballads. These songs are often heard echoing through the somber deserts during the 11 months of elagonquin, the time of harvest, and feature the Mexican language, varied emotional crescendos and tiny brass trumpets. Songs often concern the tradition of serving complimentary chips and salsa.

How much do YOU know?
which is correct?

mexican

mexican

if you chose the man on left, you are incorrect; there is nothing wrong with him, he is just a regular man. The Mexican can be found occupying the right side of the figure wearing sombrero and riding horse. Further clues such as wearing a Mexican blanket would increase the odds of the perp being Mexican.

Apart from blankets, Mexicans have also taken to folding their meals into a meat packet, the burrito. On lunch breaks all over Mexico, day laborers are found engulfing these cylindrical meat logs. The burrito goes down easy with the help of a Big Gulp. These meat-filled folded Mexican sandwiches taste best when wrapped in tin foil and served hot on a bed of lettuce.

Corn in Mexico is known as delicious life giving maize. It is a recommended romantic gesture in the deepest of Mexican jungles to give maize to the sweet Mexican hardcore babes because of its uncircumcised phallic nature. These chinos are untainted by western vegetables, but are easily wooed by an ear of corn. If you wish to take one of these sweet babes hands in marriage you should present her with an entire stalk of maize and a jug of apple juice with sugar added. She may say something to the positive effect of "hey man, I respect your diligence. One day I may just let you take my hand in the sacred act and holy union of marriage." The best part is now the sharing of the maize with your bride to be.

Ask Kristy Lee and she will tell you the words you long to hear "hey folks I'm 50% Mexican. Come dance with me into the Mexican death valley and you will be safe because of my magical Mexican blood lines. I like tacos, burritos, and Kevin. Thanks for corn stalk."